The Parish Council has had its usual busy year dealing with such regular items as reporting works for the Parish Steward to fix and commenting on planning applications – 27 of those. However I want to concentrate on the three particularly significant achievements of the last 12 months. All of these represent real benefits to our community. Two are already well-used and the third we hope will never be used.

In the year when we commemorated the end of World War One, the War Memorial and the area around it have been our priority. The Memorial has been cleaned and the names of the men who died in both wars have been re-painted. The land which used to be part of the Tree Nursery has been cleared, planted with grass and an old variety of apple tree for each of the men on the Memorial. This has restored the view of the village from the Memorial and the view of the Memorial from around the village. The handsome seat donated by Longleat Forestry is well-used by people who sit and contemplate the beautiful view. The Remembrance Sunday ceremony organised by the Council on the 11th November was well-attended and included a good number of relatives of those on the Memorial. Following the ceremony, refreshments were provided at the Hall where there was a display portraying those who died in the Great War as well as memorabilia brought by relatives. It was a fitting culmination of the 4 years of commemoration and the Memorial Orchard will continue to be a lasting reminder of the sacrifice of those brave men of Horningsham.

The second major achievement has been the installation of the play area next to the Hall. For more years than I can remember, there have been hopes that we might one day have a recreational facility for the children of the village and at last we have one. The almost £30,000 cost has been funded entirely by grants and donations including an initial £10,000 raised in memory of the late polar explorer Henry Worsley. This is a significant amenity for the village that the Council is proud to have provided and I am pleased to report that it has already been well played on, even before its formal opening at the Fayre on the 9th June.

Finally, to another significant community amenity but one that is so far unused and that we hope may never be needed. The Parish Council has paid for a defibrillator outside the Hall under a scheme run by South West Ambulances. As I said, we hope it won't ever be used but if it is, then it may well save a life.

Tim Hill, Chairman of Horningsham Parish Council
